“You(introduction)”

You should be the most valuable person for you. When we cannot see – and feel our value in life; we eventually cheat ourselves from expressing our creativity fully. How can we give the best of ourselves to our family, friends – and workplace without loving ourselves? Life begins with, “You!”

You can love yourself fully – and still give your all to others without losing yourself. When you learn to love yourself in fullness; you will find a balance through prayer – and meditation. It just takes a little work – and patience with you.

How can you live your full potential – and how can you give your full potential not knowing who you are inside? Christ Jesus said, “The kingdom of heaven (God) is within you.” To go into the kingdom of heaven you must meet up with yourself – and you must Love yourself; for Love is the power of the kingdom of heaven. Loving yourself has nothing to do with our egotism; it has everything to do with Truth!

Face the Truth of yourself – and you will grow to know – and Love you. You will find understanding, compassion – and empathy for those times you neglected you, and you will forgive yourself.

So, the best – and only place to begin is with you to know what Love is. I have been guided by the Ascended Host to continue the theme of “You!”

“After listening to people’s stories for some time – and reflecting on my own life experiences; I was ready to receive this message one night. I wrote down what came through me – and went back into my meditation, but something inside would not let me rest until I worked on a video for these inspired words. I kept hearing my inner voice instructing me to play a little – and record the spoken words on video while listening to “Sometimes When It Rains” by Secret Garden.

I was tired, but I followed my inner guidance – and decided to go with the first recording of my voice. Sometimes you have to go with the flow of the moment.”

“YOU” (poem)

Take some time to share you with you.

You will see that you can be your best friend.

Don’t let you become a stranger to you.

No, it’s not being selfish; it’s becoming self-liked.

Now, that you know – and have experienced the sharing of you with you.

You will have more to share of yourself with others.

You see; you can’t share what you don’t understand or have not experienced.

To share your love fully; you must know how to love yourself fully.”

And if, family or friends have experienced loving themselves in truth – and all sincerity; they will understand you having time with you.

You...
